Baby Massage

Baby massage has been used around the world for centuries to help parents use the power of 'positive touch' to help their babies feel secure and to help with bonding. The gentle soothing movements help parents/carers feel more confident in handling their baby and better able to soothe and relax them. Massage also helps strengthen a baby's muscles and joints and it can help with digestive and sleep problems.

Baby Yoga

Baby yoga is a lovely addition to baby massage. It is a series of playful adapted yoga poses and movements that gives parents/carers and their babies a way of being active together, and with others. The hour long session includes yoga stretches, balances and relaxation time for babies and adults, using nursery rhymes to add rhythm and fun. This active play stimulates all of the babies' senses and body systems aiding physical and emotional development.
